ADVISORY COMMISSION ON INTERGOVERNMENTAL RELATIONS, 72C Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20575 (202/382-4953)

William R. MacDougall,
Executive Director

Carries on continuing research into the intergovernmental dimensions of environmental control and urban development problems.

THE ALUMINUM ASSOCIATION, 750 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017 (212/972-1800)

S. L. Goldsmith, Jr.,
Executive Vice President

The Association has an active Subcommittee on Litter & Solid Waste, the chairman of which is D.R. Tietjen of Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Sales, Inc. This Subcommittee is currently developing programs in the field of land pollution control for the Association.

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF AMERICA, 1501 Alcoa Building, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15219 (412/553-2720)

Dr. M. O. Colwell, Vice President-Health & Environment

Alcoa's primary activity in land reclamation involves restoration and reforestation following open-pit mining operations. On a lesser scale, some fabricating plants dispose of solid waste in off-property, state-approved landfill projects.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF SCIENCE, 1515 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005 (202/387-7171)

Dr. William Bevan, Executive Officer

Frequent articles in Science magazine concerning land pollution and other environmental problems.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF NURSEY-MEN, 835 Southern Building, Washington, D.C. 20005 (202/737-4060)

Robert F. Lederer,
Executive Vice President

Green Survival Program stresses the role of plant material in soil erosion control, air pollution control, noise abatement, and visual enhancement — and the part individuals can play in pollution control.

THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF PETROLEUM GEOLOGISTS, 1444 South Boulder (Box 979), Tulsa, Okla. 74101 (918/584-2555)

Norman C. Smith, Executive Director

Principally in the field of exploration geology. Many members have considerable experience in environmental geology, and much interest in assisting the public to appreciate environmental surveillance and preservation. A committee to bring into focus their activities and opinions has been formed with Dr. Willis G. Meyer as chairman. His address is 1400 Republic National Bank Building, Dallas, Tex. 75201.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF PROFESSORS IN SANITARY ENGINEERING, 207 Riley-Robb
Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, effective application of pesticides;

proper animal and poultry waste disposal.

FARM ELECTRIFICATION COUNCIL,
P.O. Box 1008, Oak Brook, Ill. 60523
(312/654-0810)

John D. Turrell, Executive Manager

Encourage the application of mechanical systems that effectively reduce pollution from animal wastes either by recycling or aeration or dehydration — or a combination.

FARMERS EDUCATIONAL & COOP-ERATIVE UNION OF AMERICA (NAT-IONAL FARMERS UNION) 12025 E.
45th Avenue, P.O. Box 2251, Denver,
Colo. 80201 (303/344-1760)

Tony T. Dechant, President

We believe that ecological balance can best be achieved through maintenance of a family-type agriculture in which crops are rotated, livestock waste is not in excess of the volume that can be returned to soil through organic decay, a farm forestry plot is protected, and other conservation measures are common practice. Corporate agriculture on the other hand, is less sensitive to natural resource conservation. There is particular need for control of corporate-dominated industrial livestock feeding — which has resulted in serious water and soil pollution.
